

Meet one of our global partners

Full Circle Exchange is proud to partner with Invisible Children. As a creative, non-profit organization, Invisible Children's goal is to create awareness regarding the plight of the people of northern Uganda, caught in the midst of a civil war between the government and a rebel group that makes extensive use of kidnapping children and making child soldiers. By documenting the lives of those living in regions of conflict and injustice, Invisible Children hopes to educate and inspire individuals in the Western world to use their unique voice for change. Their work extends beyond their borders. In war-affected regions Invisible Children focuses on long-term development, working directly with individuals and institutions that are eager to realize their full potential. Through their Visible Child Scholarship Program and innovative economic opportunities, they partner with affected communities and strive to improve the quality of life for individuals living in Northern Uganda.

Wake up to Justice

At Full Circle Exchange we are committed to "Fair Trade and Organic Practices." Additional incomes from Fair Trade, as well as scholarship programs developed with Fair Trade premiums, enable girls and women to access education they wouldn't have been able to otherwise. In many impoverished, rural communities, families do not have enough money to send all their children to school. In most cases, boy children are given priority over girl children to attend school.

"When I was young, I didn't have the opportunity to study, and for that reason I give thanks to Fair Trade because it has enabled me to pay for my studies as an adult. I now have an undergraduate degree in sustainable agriculture. I am educating my children as I would have liked to have been educated at their age."

— Blanca Rosa Molina, coffee cooperative CECOCAFEN, Nicaragua

The co-op has built a school and funded over 300 scholarships for members' children. Additionally, $28,000 worth of school supplies were provided to children in rural primary schools and a literacy program has taught many members to read and write.

Health

CECOCAFEN built a community health center and has subsidized eye glasses and medical exams for many members and their families.

Why Fair Trade

The last time you ordered a cup of coffee or a double espresso did you think about the coffee farmer in Africa or Central America who grew and harvested the bean? For farmers and farm workers throughout the developing world whose livelihoods depend on products that Americans enjoy everyday, such as coffee, tea and cocoa, survival can be a struggle. Fair Trade empowers farmers, guarantees a fair price for their product, safe working conditions, adequate housing, sustainable farming practices, ongoing education for children, and other socially responsible programs for coffee, tea and chocolate growing communities.

Why Organic

For the health conscious, chemical free products are healthier for the human body and contain all natural products. By only choosing coffee, tea and chocolate that is grown and produced in environmentally responsible ways, you are helping to better sustain our planet. You are making a statement that the preservation of our environment is an important factor in decisions that you make, even in regards to what you drink or eat. By purchasing organically grown products, you are benefiting your own health as well as the health of farmers and their communities.
